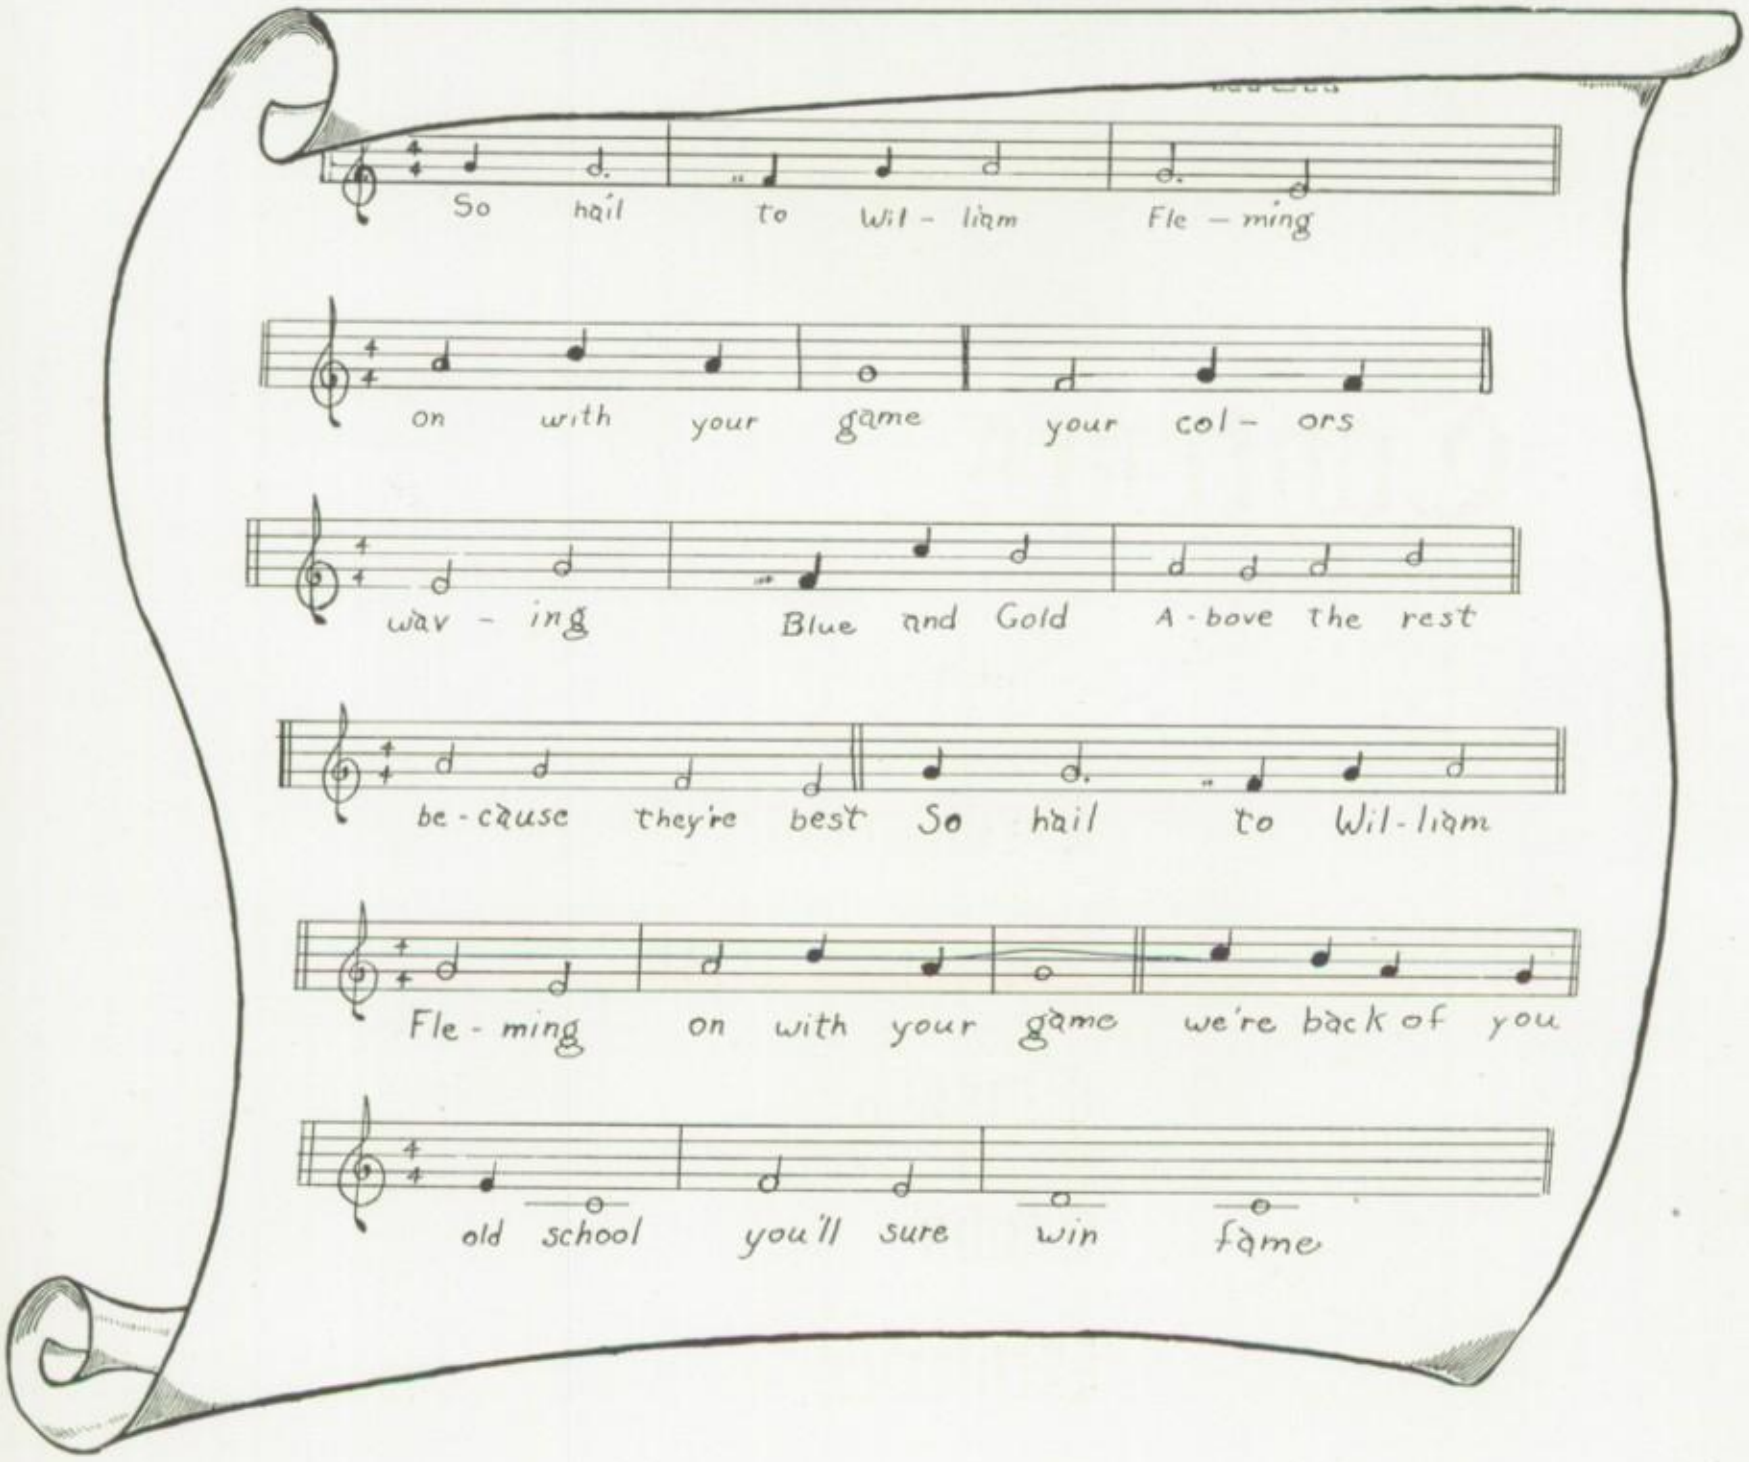
ALMA MATER



Foreword

When our carefree sojourn at Fleming is a thing of the past, it is our hope that you may relive, as you leaf through the pages of this yearbook, the happy hours spent here.

We sincerely hope that you will be reminded pleasantly of the many memorable occasions we have shared together. The assemblies, the sporting events, the social activities, the dramatics, the club meetings, the trips and even the classes have molded our attitudes and personalities.

Therefore, we have chosen our Alma Mater as the theme of our 1950 COLONEL. The song is naturally associated with life at Fleming; the lyric serves as an effective reminder of our school activities.

The Annual Staff hopes that you will accept gratefully our contribution to Fleming life. Enjoy it to the fullest extent.

Dedication

As a small token of appreciation for the many times that she, without a word of complaint but with a willing smile, laid aside her regular office duties to focus her attention to both our necessary and trivial needs, we, the Annual Staff, do fondly and sincerely dedicate the 1950 COLONEL to Miss Frances Sanderson, our school secretary. We are indeed grateful and indebted to her for her kindness and patience.

FACULTY

Our Principal

Mr. W. Albert Coulter

In our school program we try to duplicate, approximate or anticipate experiences and ideas which will be of value to you in life after school. We aim to prepare those college-bound people for further organized study. We attempt to equip some of you for special jobs in the commercial field. We try to give all of you experiences in working, planning, living with and getting on with your fellow men.

It is our earnest hope that we have helped you to become a bigger person—bigger in every way—than you were when you came to us.

If we have succeeded, we are glad; if we have failed, we are filled with regret!

We would offer one parting word. Let the past be behind you; in other words, forget it. Look forward, not backward! Wring all the good living possible from the present! Keep your eyes to the future, and resolve constantly to do all things well, ever striving to improve on your own present accomplishments.

We, the 1950 Annual Staff, hope that this yearbook will be one cherished by you now and in the years to come. As all annual staffs, we have endeavored to give you a book as good or better than the ones in the past years.

Publishing this Annual has furnished a lot of hard work for all of us but it has also been lots of fun. After our kick-off assembly the work really started. There were ads to get, subscriptions to take, and last came the biggest job of all, that of compiling this yearbook.

May this book always be one of memories to you.

"Parting is such sweet sorrow." That's the way we reluctantly leave Fleming. Five years ago our minds were filled with eager anticipation for the time to come when we would be seniors. Now that our dreams are fulfilled, we feel sad, when we think of terminating our happy and pleasant relationships with teachers and fellow students.

Time can never erase the fond memories of our last year in high school. The various activities—the assembly programs, minstrel, banquets, dances, skating party, Senior Day, Capping Exercise, Commencement, Baccalaureate and the New York trip—will always remain a part of us.

We hope the sojourn at Fleming of those who follow us will be as joyful and profitable as ours has been.

The Junior Class began the 1949-50 year with the presentation of the class play, "That Crazy Smith Family."

The Christmas Dance was the next highlight of the year. The many Christmas trees, the bright colored lights and the soft orchestra music furnished a perfect setting for the dance. Jean Umberger was crowned as the "Holly Queen."

As all true Irishmen, we celebrated St. Patrick's Day with a dance.

The traditional Junior-Senior Prom climaxed our yearly activities.

A very few of us gained "heads" or became student directors, many more served on "props" or make-up, tickets or stage; but whatever we did, each was embued with the universal feeling—the feeling "the show must go on." There were cues for all, "backstage," "on" or "out front."

Any junior or senior interested in dramatics is welcomed into Senior Masque.

Exciting milestones of the year included "Mother is a Freshman" (we premiered that for the company), "That Crazy Smith Family" and "Arsenic and Old Lace." On the heels of a wonderful record with the last year's festival play, "Message from Khufu," came the request by the author that our group "do" his new play, "The Wall," for the festival. Our talented and experienced Thespians chose this for their play in York, Pennsylvania. We salute them for their record and this honor brought to Fleming. We'll promise them to keep trying as we make our points toward "T" membership.

"The play's the King . . ."

The Junior Masque Club is composed of ninth and tenth grade students who are interested in dramatics. A person must be interested in acting, entertaining and assisting in play production before becoming a member.

Our activities this year included an assembly program, a radio skit, presentation of a one-act play at the Veterans Facility in cooperation with the Junior Red Cross, and two parties, one at Christmastime and the other in the spring. We concluded our activities with our annual picnic at Fishburn Park.

The Club also purchased a make-up kit and gave lessons in the art of make-up to the Eighth Grade Masque Club.

The Literary Club—that group whose meetings are an olio of debaters haranguing, speakers working on addresses, creative writers scribbling away at their entries for The Beacon, poetry and prose readers conning selections, and the dramatic-minded reading their lines for "The Wall" which may travel to Charlottesville and York, Pennsylvania, has a glamorous heritage to uphold. Past winners in forensic meets, holders of "Distinguished" ratings in The Beacon ("Mosaic" from the 1949 edition was named the best high school poem submitted for that year), victorious debaters and casts of prize-winning plays smile in approval as they watch the activities for this year. Literary letters are won through never-ending toil, through tense and exciting contests and sometimes through heartaches and tears.

District winners of last year's debate included David Townsend, J. H. Caricofe, Frank Blankemeyer and Bill Ling. Nancy Hurd represented the district in poetry readings and Jeanne Mann Dickinson won state championship with her poem, "Mosaic."

"Tapping Day" came in mid-September for twenty-five dramatic "hopefuls" as President Diane read the list in a morning assembly, and the fledglings realized that the two years of work—backstage, acting, technical, business—was now resulting in a coveted membership to National Thespians.

The opening curtain brought "Mother is a Freshman," the intermission gave the Christmas cabin party, the second act rang in "Arsenic and Old Lace," and the bank pageant, while the wonderful third act brought us the trip to York, Pennsylvania, where we represented Virginia and the South in three days of thrilling theater with seven hundred Thespians from fifteen states, and with "The Wall" quite ready to represent us after Bassett and Charlottesville. Surely we can say at the end of this wonderful season, we have tried to "act well our part."

Mary Lou Criss and J. H. Caricofe, previous members of the Club, were voted recipients of the annual scholarship award given by the Club.

The annual social affair for the Club was the banquet for the Club members only.

The Club decided on a bake and rummage sale and a "white elephant" sale for the projects to raise money needed to send delegates to the State Convention held on April 19th and 20th. State President, Jimmy Slaydon, presided over this convention.

1949-50 marked the 12th anniversary of the Senior Club, but only the eighth for the Junior. Each year these two groups have become greater and more worth while. They have built a prestige at the Y. W. C. A. and at Fleming that can hardly be surpassed. Why? Because the Y-Teen spirit is something one feels. It is that Christian ideal and close contact among girls here at Fleming and those of other schools; even of other states and nations.

This intangible spirit not only makes them feel the friendship of other girls but ever holds before them the guiding clutch of the Master's hand. The clubs give their members an ideal, the Christ, to live up to, and no true, active Y-Teen can go through a year without feeling His great influence upon her life if she will allow Him to come in.

The clubs try to plan a well-rounded program that will aid in developing pleasing personalities and molding Christian characters. It has the purpose and triangle of the Y. W. C. A. and tries to carry on a program that will represent three sides—mental, spiritual and physical—of each girl's life.

The clubs greatly enjoyed their "Secret Pals," "Big-Little Sisters," "adopted" child from the Salem Baptist Orphanage, and the friendship of both our advisor, Miss Morris, and our director, Mrs. Rowan.

Music means much to the happiness, contentment and spiritual life of anyone. This year, the Y-Teen Choir played a big part in the club activities by singing for programs here, at the Y, at different churches and on radio programs. The success of the Choir is due to the loyalty of its members and the faithfulness of Mrs. Virginia Boyd, the director and Miss Fannie Lee Sanderson, the accompanist.

Other interested groups that have done much for the clubs have been the two dance choruses and The Teller staff.

All in all, both clubs have had a very successful year. It could not have been otherwise with Jean and Beverly as presidents who were always willing to do all within their power for the good of all. However, they could have done little without the loyal support and interest of their cabinets.

The Red Cross Council was set up this year as a permanent organization at William Fleming. Our yearly Red Cross Drive was a big success in that we went far beyond our goal.

The main project of the year was doing things to brighten the lives of the patients at the Veterans Facility. We filled Christmas stockings for them, sang carols throughout the hospital, gave the patients Santa posters, and sponsored a number of entertaining programs for them.

In addition to our activities at the hospital we presented to the Williamson Road Recreation Center games, puzzles and a chest to be used to send school supplies overseas.

The Art Club was organized in September with Mrs. Painter as sponsor. Officers were elected and plans were made for the year. Because of the large enrollment it was necessary to limit the membership to tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades.

Our yearly activities included: An extensive study of stained glass windows, making Christmas decorations for the Veterans Facility, decorating bulletin boards and making stage sets. Our main interest was learning art appreciation.

Our expanded interest and appreciation of art as well as our enjoyable association with each other has made it a successful year for our Club.

Best of luck to a swell girl.

The Eighth Grade Masque Club was organized to give the eighth grade pupils a better opportunity to develop and show their talents in the field of acting, speaking and play production. The Club is patterned somewhat from the Senior and Junior Masque Clubs.

The Club had an active program in its organizational year. Some of its members participated in a radio play. Making marionettes and puppets was the main feature of the year. They helped build a marionette portable stage. They also gave a play in the spring, putting into practice many of the techniques they learned from producing marionette shows or from play production "work shops."

Speech Class "Curtain Calls"

Opening night! What a thrill—especially when your Troupe has been asked by the publishers to premiere such a "swell" play as "Mother is a Freshman." Remember the number of out-of-town people who called in for tickets . . . our new flats . . . the flowers between acts . . . the applause . . . another hit!

Speech Class scored a triumph with "We Shook the Family Tree." Remember Jimmy in short pants!

"A Message from Khufu"! A "distinguished" at Bassett—a "distinguished" at State Carnival—with Bob Bohon "the outstanding actor of district and state," ably supported by Bill Hale, Bill Ling and Frank Blankemeyer.

Speech Class "Curtain Calls"

We appreciated being asked to help open the new bank with "fanfare" and four Fleming actors. "Banker" Bill Hale acted as master of ceremonies, and welcomed Colonel William Fleming (David T.), General Andrew Lewis (Jimmy H.), and General Edward Watts (Aubrey D.) to the opening.

"The Wall," play for the festival, and for the trip to York, Pennsylvania, has challenged our best efforts. When we received the invitation to "do" a play at the York Drama Conference, we beamed, and when we were sent the unpublished play, "The Wall," by the author, Verne Powers, and asked to be the first in the country to present it we were very proud and happy! We hope our efforts will not be in vain.

As special yearly activities, the staff toured a local press and editing association, and sponsored the first assembly program by presenting "Flash-a-Popping" as an advertising campaign for the paper.

Girls' Athletics

This year, due to city regulations, the girls did not have a Varsity squad, but they did have two teams representing Fleming in the "B" League of the City. Games were played at the Y. W. C. A. on Friday nights.

The Gold Team, composed of last year's Varsity and some members of last year's Junior Varsity, came out first in the race for the "B" League Championship.

These are the girls who rode with John Payne in the parade, January 11th. Along with that they had many thrills cheering at the games, both football and basketball.

Sara Lou gave the "mighty nine" a work-out during the summer months in the blazing sun; therefore, they became used to the "heat"; consequently, were all ready for those close, exciting games.

The squad felt a great need for a keener school spirit and sold everything from pennants to Fleming balloons on sticks to let Jefferson know that there's another Roanoke City High School.

These girls proudly followed the football team to Winchester to play the Half-State Game with Handly High. What a trip! It will never be forgotten.

Basketball games were also close and exciting which made cheerleading more fun.

These nine had their fun together away from games when not in action. They dined out many times and ate so much they found it difficult to yell. A Christmas party was held at the home of the sponsor and gifts were exchanged.

We would like to thank Miss Morris, our sponsor, for her hospitality, patience and kindness through the year. She was a great help.

The squad is also indebted to Sara Lou for her instruction, training and friendship. She was right on the beam every minute and did more than her part in making this 1949-50 cheerleading squad what it was.

Last, but not least, a word of thanks to a wonderful student body who followed and backed the cheerleaders and teams. The squad appreciated this fine support.

Best of luck always

So this is the second Junior Cheerleading Squad in the history of William Fleming. These lucky cheerleaders also had the golden opportunity of riding in the parade with the "Star" from the Star City; namely, John Payne. The squad originally had seven members but lost Sandra Tate in November when she moved to Richmond.

This group led cheers for the Junior Varsity and the 110-pound team in football. It also gave its support to the girls' basketball games in the City League. It was a rare pleasure and opportunity to yell for the Junior Varsity basketball games.

Along with enjoying cheerleading, we have enjoyed our parties and dances, especially the Christmas party at which time we exchanged gifts.

It was also fun working with the Varsity Cheerleaders, and we want to thank them for their wonderful support.

"Margie" made a wonderful head cheerleader and helped in every way to make the squad one of which Fleming would be proud.

Last, but not least, we want to express our thanks and appreciation to our sponsor, Miss Morris, who has spent so much time and helped us a great deal in many ways.

To High School Graduates

Whatever you plan to do after graduation—whether you plan for college or business—your mental development must continue.

The National Business College is a distinctive, private school of professional grade. Day and evening courses prepare high school graduates for immediate earnings. Many graduates who have acquired experience are now presidents, vice-presidents, cashiers, secretaries, treasurers and controllers of large corporations—others are in successful accountancy practice.

The selection of a commercial school for your business training is of vital importance to you. Write for beautifully illustrated catalog.

A very few of us gained "heads" or became student directors, many more served on "props" or make-up, tickets or stage; but whatever we did, each was embued with the universal feeling—the feeling "the show must go on." There were cues for all, "backstage," "on" or "out front."

Any junior or senior interested in dramatics is welcomed into Senior Masque.

Exciting milestones of the year included "Mother is a Freshman" (we premiered that for the company), "That Crazy Smith Family" and "Arsenic and Old Lace." On the heels of a wonderful record with the last year's festival play, "Message from Khufu," came the request by the author that our group "do" his new play, "The Wall," for the festival. Our talented and experienced Thespians chose this for their play in York, Pennsylvania. We salute them for their record and this honor brought to Fleming. We'll promise them to keep trying as we make our points toward "T" membership.

The Junior Masque Club is composed of ninth and tenth grade students who are interested in dramatics. A person must be interested in acting, entertaining and assisting in play production before becoming a member.

Our activities this year included an assembly program, a radio skit, presentation of a one-act play at the Veterans Facility in cooperation with the Junior Red Cross, and two parties, one at Christmastime and the other in the spring. We concluded our activities with our annual picnic at Fishburn Park.

The Club also purchased a make-up kit and gave lessons in the art of make-up to the Eighth Grade Masque Club.

The Literary Club—that group whose meetings are an olio of debaters haranguing, speakers working on addresses, creative writers scribbling away at their entries for The Beacon, poetry and prose readers conning selections, and the dramatic-minded reading their lines for "The Wall" which may travel to Charlottesville and York, Pennsylvania, has a glamorous heritage to uphold. Past winners in forensic meets, holders of "Distinguished" ratings in The Beacon ("Mosaic" from the 1949 edition was named the best high school poem submitted for that year), victorious debaters and casts of prize-winning plays smile in approval as they watch the activities for this year. Literary letters are won through never-ending toil, through tense and exciting contests and sometimes through heartaches and tears.

District winners of last year's debate included David Townsend, J. H. Caricofe, Frank Blankemeyer and Bill Ling. Nancy Hurd represented the district in poetry readings and Jeanne Mann Dickinson won state championship with her poem, "Mosaic."

"Tapping Day" came in mid-September for twenty-five dramatic "hopefuls" as President Diane read the list in a morning assembly, and the fledglings realized that the two years of work—backstage, acting, technical, business—was now resulting in a coveted membership to National Thespians.

The opening curtain brought "Mother is a Freshman," the intermission gave the Christmas cabin party, the second act rang in "Arsenic and Old Lace," and the bank pageant, while the wonderful third act brought us the trip to York, Pennsylvania, where we represented Virginia and the South in three days of thrilling theater with seven hundred Thespians from fifteen states, and with "The Wall" quite ready to represent us after Bassett and Charlottesville. Surely we can say at the end of this wonderful season, we have tried to "act well our part."

The first meeting of the Senior Beta Club was confined to the checking of the eligibility of the members and of those thought qualified for membership.

Mary Lou Criss and J. H. Caricofe, previous members of the Club, were voted recipients of the annual scholarship award given by the Club.

The annual social affair for the Club was the banquet for the Club members only.

The Club decided on a bake and rummage sale and a "white elephant" sale for the projects to raise money needed to send delegates to the State Convention held on April 19th and 20th. State President, Jimmy Slaydon, presided over this convention.

The Hi-Y held their Father-Son Banquet, which was a lot of fun. During March the Annual went to press, after many hours of hard work by the staff.

This is the third year that the Junior Beta Club has been in Fleming. For our projects we sent a Christmas basket to the Mercy House, held several outings, and climaxed the year by sending two delegates to the State Convention in Richmond.

Fleming Flash sent representatives to the S. I. P. A. Convention in Lexington, while here at home the Senior Y-Teens presented their Dad-Daughter Banquet.

1949-50 marked the 12th anniversary of the Senior Club, but only the eighth for the Junior. Each year these two groups have become greater and more worth while. They have built a prestige at the Y. W. C. A. and at Fleming that can hardly be surpassed. Why? Because the Y-Teen spirit is something one feels. It is that Christian ideal and close contact among girls here at Fleming and those of other schools; even of other states and nations.

This intangible spirit not only makes them feel the friendship of other girls but ever holds before them the guiding clutch of the Master's hand. The clubs give their members an ideal, the Christ, to live up to, and no true, active Y-Teen can go through a year without feeling His great influence upon her life if she will allow Him to come in.

The clubs try to plan a well-rounded program that will aid in developing pleasing personalities and molding Christian characters. It has the purpose and triangle of the Y. W. C. A. and tries to carry on a program that will represent three sides—mental, spiritual and physical—of each girl's life.

The clubs greatly enjoyed their "Secret Pals," "Big-Little Sisters," "adopted" child from the Salem Baptist Orphanage, and the friendship of both our advisor, Miss Morris, and our director, Mrs. Rowan.

Music means much to the happiness, contentment and spiritual life of anyone. This year, the Y-Teen Choir played a big part in the club activities by singing for programs here, at the Y, at different churches and on radio programs. The success of the Choir is due to the loyalty of its members and the faithfulness of Mrs. Virginia Boyd, the director and Miss Fannie Lee Sanderson, the accompanist.

Other interested groups that have done much for the clubs have been the two dance choruses and The Teller staff.

All in all, both clubs have had a very successful year. It could not have been otherwise with Jean and Beverly as presidents who were always willing to do all within their power for the good of all. However, they could have done little without the loyal support and interest of their cabinets.

The Red Cross Council was set up this year as a permanent organization at William Fleming. Our yearly Red Cross Drive was a big success in that we went far beyond our goal.

The main project of the year was doing things to brighten the lives of the patients at the Veterans Facility. We filled Christmas stockings for them, sang carols throughout the hospital, gave the patients Santa posters, and sponsored a number of entertaining programs for them.

In addition to our activities at the hospital we presented to the Williamson Road Recreation Center games, puzzles and a chest to be used to send school supplies overseas.

The Art Club was organized in September with Mrs. Painter as sponsor. Officers were elected and plans were made for the year. Because of the large enrollment it was necessary to limit the membership to tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades.

Our yearly activities included: An extensive study of stained glass windows, making Christmas decorations for the Veterans Facility, decorating bulletin boards and making stage sets. Our main interest was learning art appreciation.

Our expanded interest and appreciation of art as well as our enjoyable association with each other has made it a successful year for our Club.

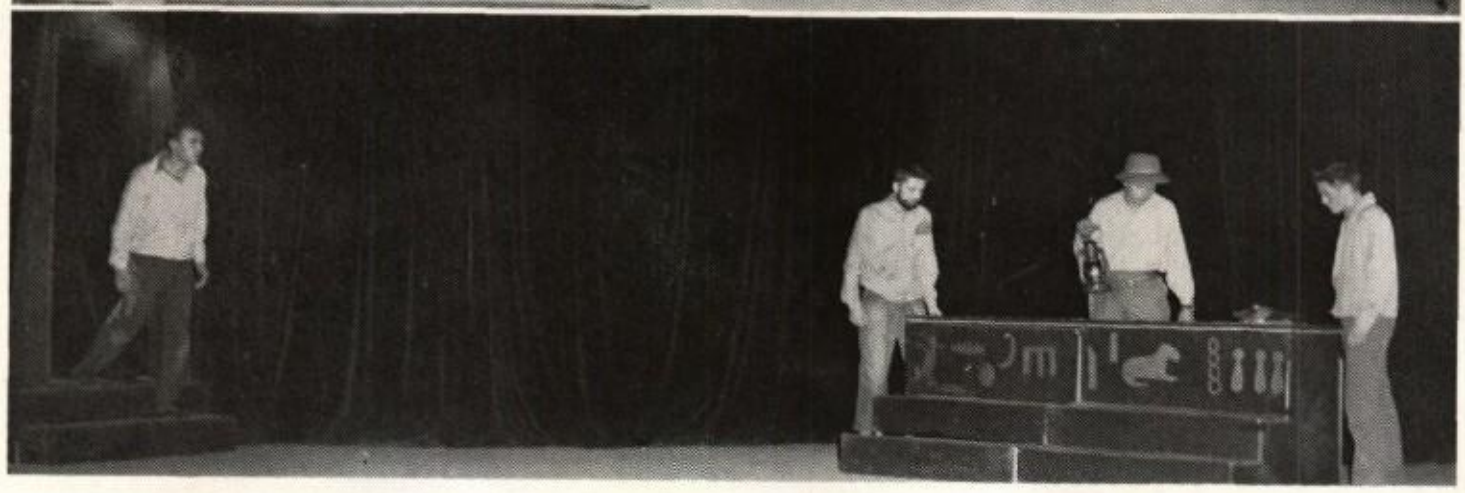
The Eighth Grade Masque Club was organized to give the eighth grade pupils a better opportunity to develop and show their talents in the field of acting, speaking and play production. The Club is patterned somewhat from the Senior and Junior Masque Clubs.

The Club had an active program in its organizational year. Some of its members participated in a radio play. Making marionettes and puppets was the main feature of the year. They helped build a marionette portable stage. They also gave a play in the spring, putting into practice many of the techniques they learned from producing marionette shows or from play production "work shops."



Speech Class "Curtain Calls"

Opening night! What a thrill—especially when your Troupe has been asked by the publishers to premiere such a "swell" play as "Mother is a Freshman." Remember the number of out-of-town people who called in for tickets . . . our new flats . . . the flowers between acts . . . the applause . . . another hit!

Speech Class scored a triumph with "We Shook the Family Tree." Remember Jimmy in short pants!

"A Message from Khufu"! A "distinguished" at Bassett—a "distinguished" at State Carnival—with Bob Bohon "the outstanding actor of district and state," ably supported by Bill Hale, Bill Ling and Frank Blankemeyer.

Speech Class "Curtain Calls"

We appreciated being asked to help open the new bank with "fanfare" and four Fleming actors. "Banker" Bill Hale acted as master of ceremonies, and welcomed Colonel William Fleming (David T.), General Andrew Lewis (Jimmy H.), and General Edward Watts (Aubrey D.) to the opening.

"The Wall," play for the festival, and for the trip to York, Pennsylvania, has challenged our best efforts. When we received the invitation to "do" a play at the York Drama Conference, we beamed, and when we were sent the unpublished play, "The Wall," by the author, Verne Powers, and asked to be the first in the country to present it we were very proud and happy! We hope our efforts will not be in vain.

The Fleming Flash, the weekly newspaper, is published by the journalism class with the aid of two sponsors. The aim of the Fleming Flash is to present school news and information to the students.

As special yearly activities, the staff toured a local press and editing association, and sponsored the first assembly program by presenting "Flash-a-Popping" as an advertising campaign for the paper.

Girls' Athletics

This year, due to city regulations, the girls did not have a Varsity squad, but they did have two teams representing Fleming in the "B" League of the City. Games were played at the Y. W. C. A. on Friday nights.

The Gold Team, composed of last year's Varsity and some members of last year's Junior Varsity, came out first in the race for the "B" League Championship.

The Blue Team, which also played in the "B" League, was made up of outstanding players who played on class teams. They tied Hyltons for third place in the "B" League.

These are the girls who rode with John Payne in the parade, January 11th. Along with that they had many thrills cheering at the games, both football and basketball.

Sara Lou gave the "mighty nine" a work-out during the summer months in the blazing sun; therefore, they became used to the "heat"; consequently, were all ready for those close, exciting games.

The squad felt a great need for a keener school spirit and sold everything from pennants to Fleming balloons on sticks to let Jefferson know that there's another Roanoke City High School.

These girls proudly followed the football team to Winchester to play the Half-State Game with Handly High. What a trip! It will never be forgotten.

Basketball games were also close and exciting which made cheerleading more fun.

These nine had their fun together away from games when not in action. They dined out many times and ate so much they found it difficult to yell. A Christmas party was held at the home of the sponsor and gifts were exchanged.

We would like to thank Miss Morris, our sponsor, for her hospitality, patience and kindness through the year. She was a great help.

The squad is also indebted to Sara Lou for her instruction, training and friendship. She was right on the beam every minute and did more than her part in making this 1949-50 cheerleading squad what it was.

Last, but not least, a word of thanks to a wonderful student body who followed and backed the cheerleaders and teams. The squad appreciated this fine support.

So this is the second Junior Cheerleading Squad in the history of William Fleming. These lucky cheerleaders also had the golden opportunity of riding in the parade with the "Star" from the Star City; namely, John Payne. The squad originally had seven members but lost Sandra Tate in November when she moved to Richmond.

This group led cheers for the Junior Varsity and the 110-pound team in football. It also gave its support to the girls' basketball games in the City League. It was a rare pleasure and opportunity to yell for the Junior Varsity basketball games.

Along with enjoying cheerleading, we have enjoyed our parties and dances, especially the Christmas party at which time we exchanged gifts.

It was also fun working with the Varsity Cheerleaders, and we want to thank them for their wonderful support.

"Margie" made a wonderful head cheerleader and helped in every way to make the squad one of which Fleming would be proud.

Last, but not least, we want to express our thanks and appreciation to our sponsor, Miss Morris, who has spent so much time and helped us a great deal in many ways.
